

Snapshot of Kerrville, Texas

July–December 2021 Progress Report

Goals

- Improve health for Doyle residents by promoting healthy eating
- Reduce policy and systems barriers that create inequities
- Increase community engagement and resident leadership through system and policy changes

By the Numbers

- 416 residents educated on nutrition and healthy eating habits through in-person community events and health screenings
- 255 Doyle residents provided with foods that support healthy eating patterns

Success Story

The Doyle Community Center now houses a fully functional commercial kitchen and food pantry. The Center has caught people's attention within and beyond the community – including Texas Rep. Andrew Murr. The new pantry's opening has simplified the process of receiving deliveries from food banks due to the prime location and larger space.

"The team is going out into the Doyle community where residents are isolated, thereby creating safe, welcoming public spaces for the Doyle residents to gather. This has given an opportunity to build trust within the larger area of the neighborhood, connect more people to resources [and] begin to break down social isolation."
